

Intergovernmental Committee of Experts on Sustainable Development Financing

Experts' bios

Western European and Others Group:

Antonios Zairis (Greece)

Mr. Antonios Zairis is the Director-General of Hellenic Aid, the Directorate General for International Development Cooperation of the Greek Ministry of Foreign Affairs. For 27 years he has been a managing executive in sales and marketing divisions of various multinational corporations and in large Greek companies. For the past five years he has served as the General Director and Vice President of the Hellenic Retail Business Association. Mr. Zairis has been a fellow Visiting Lecturer at the Athens University of Business and Economics and at the Technological Institutes of Piraeus. He has also taught in the graduate programmes of Business Administration at the University of New York in Tirana in Albania and at the University of New York in Prague. He currently holds the position of Visiting Lecturer in Business Administration at the Demokritus University of Thrace. In addition, Mr. Zairis has delivered a series of lectures in various Universities both in Greece and abroad and has written many articles and research papers for economy newspapers and other renowned magazines. He was honoured with the prize of the International Leadership Academy of the United Nations University in the category “Best New Leaders – 25 to 45 years old”. Mr. Zairis holds a Ph.D. Economic Sociology from the Panteion University (Athens, Greece) where his doctoral dissertation dealt with micro-economy issues, specializing in retail commerce.