TPI's Framework to Drive Partnerships for the SDGs

Roadmap

THE GOAL Business is fully engaged as a partner in the post-2015 development agenda

Business and development actors systematically collaborate wherever interests can be aligned

The public sector (using regulation, tax and financing mechanisms) supports sustainable and inclusive business investment; companies adjust the practice of core business in ways that achieve stronger development benefits, and invest to strengthen the social and environmental fabric in which they operate; civil society brings its technical expertise and ensures the achievement of societal benefit

Business adopts voluntary standards and principles, both internally and within its value chain; works with NGOs/others to strengthen local producers and suppliers; social / environmental investment is more strategic Government starts to align development priorities with business needs and resources; donors, international organisations, NGOs and communities begin to engage with business on development

Business engages in philanthropy; engages in some 'partnership' activities on an opportunistic basis; engages with government on business enabling environment Government starts to invest in business enabling environment; open to public-private policy dialogue; ad hoc responses to industry initiatives

Business complies with laws and regulations; pays its taxes; has conventional government relations

Government sets business regulations without consultation; minimal investment in business enabling environment
