

SDG Learning workshop

Leveraging innovative partnerships with higher education institutions towards sustainable and resilient societies

11 July 2018, 10.00 AM – 11.45 AM, Conference Room 5, United Nations, New York

Time	Item
10.00 AM – 10.10 AM	Opening and outline of workshop by facilitator – Ms. Chantal line Carpentier, Chief UNCTAD New York Office
10.10 AM – 11.10 AM	Introductory presentations (7 minutes each) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Ms. Cristina Contreras, Harvard University 2. Ms. Fatima Duisebayeva, Kazakh National Agrarian University, Almaty, Kazakhstan 3. Victoria W. Thoresen, Partnership for Education and Research about Responsible Living (PERL) 4. Mr. Jakob Grandin, University of Bergen, Centre for Climate and Energy Transformation 5. Mr. David Howard, University of Oxford 6. Professor Patrícia Iglecias, Head of Environmental Affairs, University of Sao Paulo 7. Mr. Sarpong Hammond Antwi, Pan African University Institute of Water and Energy Sciences Guiding Questions <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. What is the added value in partnering with Higher Education Institutions? 2. What sectors have you partnered with? 3. What SDGs have you worked on? 4. What makes your partnership particularly effective and impactful? 5. What challenges came up in the partnership and how were they negotiated?
11.10 AM - 11.45 AM	Interactive dialogue with trainers and participants