• Militancy in the Niger Delta
• Weak public sector institutional capacities
• Lack of disaggregated comprehensive, up-to-date and reliable data
TO CONCLUDE
Conclusions

• Nigeria has clearly defined her path to the SDGs, but a lot of support will be needed in her pursuit of the SDGs, especially in the areas of resource mobilisation, technology transfer and continuous capacity development for reliable data collection, processing as well putting in place institutional mechanisms for monitoring and evaluation of the SDGs indicators on a timely basis.

• To achieve the SDGs, creating and maintain smart and effective partnerships founded on the undoubttable patriotism and goodwill of the entire Nigerian citizenry, alongside the moral and in kind support from the global fraternity of nations will be critical.
