EU and UN Partnership

- The EU and UN global partnership to eliminate all forms of violence against women and girls – launched September 2017- EUR 500 million globally
- Galvanizes political commitment to achieving SDG5 on gender equality
- Focuses on all forms of VAWG:
 - Domestic and family violence
 - Sexual and Gender-based violence
 - Harmful practices
 - Trafficking in human beings and sexual and economic exploitation
- To model a new kind of partnership with donors, government, civil society, and across the UN system to deliver on the SDGs in a comprehensive manner, leveraging comparative expertise

Family violence

In the Caribbean, the Spotlight Initiative will focus on addressing all forms of family violence, which covers physical, social, sexual, economic and emotional abuse and acts of aggression within relationships that are considered as family connections or akin to family connections.

Family violence is often rooted on unequal gender power relations and women and girls are usually the most affected by its consequences.

Focusing on family violence provides the opportunity to address the consequences and roots causes of violence across the life-cycle.

Caribbean Context

High risk

Life time prevalence of physical and/or sexual partner violence

High rate of abused women not seeking help

High rate of children below age 15 subjected to corporal punishment at home

Early union

High adolescent birth rate

Caribbean Investment Plan

1) The Spotlight Initiative Regional programme in the Caribbean provides a regional response to tackling family violence in the Caribbean region focusing on institutional capacity building; prevention and data

2) The Country specific programme will include countries:

Belize

Grenada

Guyana

Haiti

Jamaica

Trinidad & Tobago

The selection of these countries followed a systematic and consultative process, which involved the UN and the EU at global, regional and national levels

Spotlight results framework

All women and girls live a life free of violence

All women and girls, particularly those most marginalized, in target countries live a life free from VAWG and HP through prevention strategies and strengthened multi-sectoral responses.
