

UNSGAB Closing Ceremony
20 November 2015, 10:00 – 12:45
ECOSOC Chamber, UN Headquarters

CONCEPT NOTE

Introduction

Eleven years have passed since the inception of the UN Secretary-General's Advisory Board on Water and Sanitation (UNSGAB). As the Board's mandate was related to the MDG period, UNSGAB has reached the end of its journey. Therefore it is time to take stock of what was accomplished, ponder how it was achieved, learn from successes and failures, and most especially, voice the unfinished business.

This is why UNSGAB has written its first and indeed only report "The UNSGAB Journey", which will be officially shared with the international community during this Closing Ceremony. Following the logic of the report, the Ceremony will not only look back on the Board's legacy but will also consider its final recommendations intended to add impetus to the work of all actors eager to accelerate progress on the 2030 water agenda.

Closing Ceremony Objectives

The objectives of the Closing Ceremony are threefold:

1. honour UNSGAB's legacy;
2. share the Board's experience, lessons learned and recommendations with the international and water community;
3. exchange views about how its recommendations can help set the international community on the right path to implement the 2030 water agenda.

"The UNSGAB Journey"

The UNSGAB final report offers three types of recommendations, all of them keeping in mind the comprehensive global Sustainable Development Goal on water and sanitation and the broad and ambitious set of water-related targets:

1. In line with the Board's fields of work, "The UNSGAB Journey" offers thematic recommendations (individual chapters of the report) on how to advance progress on drinking-water, sanitation, wastewater, financing, water resources management and water-related disasters.
2. The "UNSGAB Journey" offers recommendations for action (page 14 of the report) on a number of global water-related priorities for the implementation of the 2030 water agenda.
3. Noting a mismatch between the integrated and ambitious 2030 vision of freshwater and sanitation management and the international political structures available to contribute to its implementation, the report makes structural recommendations for a more effective global water architecture (page 15 of the report).

Closing Ceremony Structure

- Opening segment to set the stage and receive overall feedback from global political leaders
- A first panel will gather representatives of member states and will focus on the water institutional architecture (recommendations on page 15 of the report)
- A second panel will gather representatives of UN agencies, international NGOs, International Financial Institutions and bilateral donors and will focus on the implementation of the water-related targets of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda (chapter recommendations and recommendations on page 14 of the report).
- Closing remarks by the UNSGAB Chair to wrap up the session

For the first panel, discussants should consider the following questions when preparing their interventions:

- Do you agree that there is need for improvement regarding the international water architecture? How could UNSGAB's recommendations help make the international water architecture more fit for purpose? Which recommendation do you consider most relevant in this respect?
- If you support UNSGAB's recommendation for an intergovernmental platform on water and sanitation, how do you envisage it?

For the second panel, discussants should consider the following questions when preparing their interventions:

- Do you think that UNSGAB's recommendations cover the most relevant issues? Have you identified any gaps, and if so, which are these? What recommendations do you consider the highest priority / would you and your organization most strongly support?
- How could your organization take these recommendations forward and contribute to their implementation?
