La Paz, Bolivia, 6 and 7 of November of the 2003

LA PAZ DECLARATION

The Ministers and Maximum Authorities of Housing and the Urbanism of the Ibero-American countries and the Caribbean gathered the days 6 and 7 of November of 2003, in La Paz, Bolivia, with the purpose of analyzing jointly, in this instance of regional agreement framework, the matters related with the central topic of the XII MINURVI: "The impact of the economic growth deceleration in the urban development and the housing: the human establishments and the basic services, the land and the housing exclusion."

Taking in account (Having present):

1. That the General Assembly of Ministers and Maximum Authorities of Housing and the Urbanism of the Latin America and the Caribbean Countries (MINURVI) and the Ibero-American Forum of Ministers and Maximum Authorities of the Housing and Urban Development Sector, conformed by all the South America, Central America, the Caribbean countries and Mexico, are the entities for the political agreement, coordination and regional cooperation of the human establishments sustainable development topics and for all our inhabitants habitat problems gradual solution.

2. That most of the Latin America and the Caribbean countries face big habitat problems, whose main aspect is the considerable and increasing quantitative and qualitative housings deficit, accompanied by an increment of the marginality, overcrowding, the urban patrimony deterioration and the life quality, processes worsened by the natural threats, the economic adjustments effects and a lack of housing and human establishments planning and appropriate administration.

3. That the implementation and monitoring of the Latin America and Caribbean Regional Action Plan related to Human Establishments, embraces the main guide objectives in the housing area; the territorial and urban classification and the local governability that constitutes one of the high-priority tasks of MINURVI member countries.
4. That is necessary to work for the poverty, the urban and rural segregation, the differences in the urban and rural life qualities, the access difficulties elimination and the security in the holding property of land and housing, as well as the reduction of the housings, infrastructures and services deficit.

5. That this scenario constitutes a challenge for our countries with the purpose of defining strategies, policies and programs to overcome the current conditions in which we live and to guarantee the elements sustainability.

6. That is indispensable to exist a political and social will with clearly defined priorities to approach the human establishments problem integrally in our region impacted by the economic deceleration in the land, housing and services access aspects, contributing to the implementation of social integral qualification policies directed to the population in poverty condition.

7. That is indispensable to generate mechanisms that contribute to overcome the inequities in the incomes distribution that affect the human establishments.

8. That the housing should be seen as a coexistence space, where the unhealthy causes a low life quality in homes and results important to minimize the risk factors and to guide the inhabitants in the characteristics of a healthy housing, just as it establishes the OPS – OMS initiative that has as objective the healthy housing as a base for the social and human development of the family and the individual.

9. That is an urgent necessity to revitalize the MINURVI operability and structure to enhance its role in the integration processes at sub-regional and regional level, to harmonize the human establishments policies, to promote the cooperation between the countries and the cities, and to perfect the exchange mechanisms, knowledge transference and human resources training.

10. That is important to present to the Ibero-American State and Government Heads Summits the main agreements by the Ministers and Maximum Authorities of Housing and the Urbanism.

Recognizing:
