Sustainable Development and Transport: Practical Solutions

Sponsor: UIC and ITDP

Course Instructor:

Henning Schwarz, UIC
A. Veitch, UIC
Michael Reploge, ITDP
Ramon Cruz, ITDP

Synopsis:

The course will focus briefly on the challenges posed by the transportation sector. It will also address ways of improving sustainability of existing public transportation systems and developing new sustainable transportation projects. The session will analyse a case study of successful, cost-effective public transport problems that have directly addressed traffic congestion and environmental problems, with a particular focus on urban areas in developing countries.
