Identify constraints

Dublin Principles:

1. Fresh water is a limited and vulnerable resource and essential for life, development and the environment.

- 💧 sustainability
 - 💧 rights based approach
 - 💧 pro-poor water management
- Not just supply drinking water

Identify constraints

2. Development & management of water (and sanitation) should be based on a participatory approach, involving users, planners and policy makers at the lowest appropriate level

- 💧 Not just supply drinking water
- 💧 Not speaking the same language
- 💧 gender and cultural sensitive
- 💧 equity mainstreaming > equal footing
- 💧 demand based on informed choices

Identify constraints

3. Women play a central role in the supply, management and safeguarding of water.

- 💧 no place at the table -good intentions
- 💧 actors, but only seen as target group
- 💧 Division of roles – traditions
- 💧 Not recognized as experts / managers
- 💧 Not seen as capable to manage technology – the wrong people get trained
- 💧 No land – and water rights / safe tenure

Identify constraints

4. Water as an economic good.

- 💧 Focus on low investment,
 - 💧 not on (low) exploitation cost / affordability
 - 💧 Ownership
 - 💧 Maintenance and management
 - 💧 Large-scale infrastructure building
- Does not benefit the most needy

Create a paradigm shift from vulnerable group to partner correct the imbalance

Create partnerships, join forces locally and globally give local women a voice provide enabling environment for implementation give visibility

provide seed money to get started
Capacity development

Knowledge & experience sharing (exchange); complementary, not competing influencing policy and "translating"

working conferences

- Capacity development
- Cases: zero, developing, up-scaling
- Experts, partners
- Functional networking
- Visibility
- “Translation”: policy <> practice

Program / Project approach

- Women are “entry” point
- Organization & community development > enabling environment
- Self confidence & backing from partners
- Resources to develop projects and “take time” (process)
- No project without management -, organizational skill - and vocational training
- No project without (self) employment / local economy development

Why does this partnership work?

- Strength, not weakness is the starting point
- Take everybody serious
- Equal footing & ownership
- Functional networking
- Partner and community development
- Seed money
- Cooperation with others
- practical
